Creative Writing Updated for For many hundreds of years, literature has been one of the most important human art forms. It allows us to give voice to our emotions, create imaginary worlds, express ideas, and escape the confines of material reality.

Creative writing studies theories and methods on expressing thoughts, feelings and emotions by using the written medium, as opposed to simply presenting written facts. Students learn to use elements of fiction, character creation and plot development and, upon graduation, gain the opportunity to work as play writers, screenwriters, journalists and fiction writers. Creative writing is writing that expresses the writers thoughts and feelings in an imaginative, often unique, and poetic way. (ugweeklynews.com What is Creative Writing?) Writing is a form of personal freedom. It frees us from the mass identity we see all around us. This pdf about is Learning Creative Writing.
